

Save the Dates: Webinars for New Teachers

The Purdue Educator Success program is teaming up with the Indiana Milken Educator Network to sponsor spring webinars to support early educators starting their careers. The series is designed to support and empower new educators with practical strategies for classroom management, student engagement, work-life balance, and professional growth. Each session will tackle common challenges, provide expert insights, and offer actionable tips to help you thrive in your first years of teaching. Join us to build confidence, connect with fellow educators, and create a successful foundation for your teaching journey!
